Dear [Customer]:

We are notifying you in connection with a recently uncovered security breach that may have affected your account with Pearl Izumi.

On February 18th, 2013, we discovered that malware had been introduced into our online store without our knowledge. As we had recently implemented a new monitoring system to combat just this kind of issue, we were able to eliminate this potential threat soon after discovery, and we believed at the time that the breach affected only a handful of customers. Nonetheless, we retained a third-party forensic investigator to examine the source of the breach, evaluate the security system currently in place, and advise on any additional measures necessary to ensure the integrity of Pearl Izumi's online store. This subsequent investigation indicated that the scope of the breach was more extensive than previously thought, and we now believe that the personal information of as many as 1,250 customers was potentially affected, including yours.

The malware may have enabled a third party to intercept your name, address, phone number, account number and credit card information. We do not know whether any of your personal information was in fact breached, but we encourage you to carefully review the attached Reference Guide, which outlines steps you can take to monitor your credit reports and includes recommendations by the U.S. Federal Trade Commission on how to further protect yourself against identity theft. Under federal law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three national credit bureaus. To order, call toll-free at (877) 322-8228 or visit www.annualcreditreport.com. You may also want to place a fraud alert on your credit file.

Pearl Izumi values your business and the privacy of your information, and we take our obligation to safeguard your personal information very seriously. For that reason, we are additionally providing you a complementary one-year membership in Experian's ProtectMyID® Alert. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with superior identity protection services. Additional materials are enclosed. For more information about the breach or any of this information, please call our toll free hotline at (###) ###-####.

We hope this information is useful, and regret any inconvenience this incident may have caused you.

Sincerely,

Bryan Wight
Director of Retail Operations

Order Your Free Credit Report.

To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com, call toll-free at (877) 322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's ("FTC") website at www.ftc.gov and mail it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. The three credit bureaus provide free annual credit reports only through the website, toll-free number or request form.

When you receive your credit report, review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open. Look in the "inquiries" section for names of creditors from whom you haven't requested credit. Some companies bill under names other than their store or commercial names. The credit bureau will be able to tell you when that is the case. Look in the "personal information" section for any inaccuracies in your information (such as home address and Social Security number). If you see anything you do not understand, call the credit bureau at the telephone number on the report. Errors in this information may be a warning sign of possible identity theft. You should notify the credit bureaus of any inaccuracies in your report, whether due to error or fraud, as soon as possible so the information can be investigated and, if found to be in error, corrected. If there are accounts or charges you did not authorize, immediately notify the appropriate credit bureau by telephone and in writing. Information that can't be explained also should be reported to your local police or sheriff's office because it may signal criminal activity.

Report Fraud. If you detect any unauthorized transactions in your financial account, promptly notify your payment card company or financial institution. If you detect any incident of identity theft or fraud, promptly report the incident to your local law enforcement authorities, your state Attorney General and the FTC. If you believe your identity has been stolen, the FTC recommends that you take these additional steps:

- Close the accounts that you have confirmed or believe have been tampered with or opened fraudulently. Use the FTC's ID Theft Affidavit (available at www.ftc.gov/idtheft) when you dispute new unauthorized accounts.
- e File a local police report. Obtain a copy of the police report and submit it to your creditors and any others that may require proof of the identity theft crime.

You can contact the FTC to learn more about how to protect yourself from becoming a victim of identity theft:

You can also contact your state's attorney general for more information about identity theft. Maryland residents may contact their Attorney General at 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202; toll-free: (888) 743-0023 www.oag.state.md.us. North Carolina residents may contact their Attorney General at 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC, 27699; telephone: (919) 716-6400.

Place a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File. To protect yourself from possible identity theft, consider placing a fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert helps protect you against the possibility of an identity thief opening new credit accounts in your name. When a merchant checks the credit history of someone applying for credit, the merchant gets a notice that the applicant may be the victim of identity theft. The alert notifies the merchant to take steps to verify the identity of the applicant. You can place a fraud alert on your credit report by calling any one of the toll-free fraud numbers provided below. You will reach an automated telephone system that allows you to flag your file with a fraud alert at all three credit bureaus.

Place a Security Freeze on Your Credit File. You may wish to place a "security freeze" (also known as a "credit freeze") on your credit file. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit file at the credit bureaus without your consent. There may be fees for placing, lifting, and/or removing a security freeze, which generally range from $5-$20 per action. Unlike a fraud alert, you must place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit bureau individually. Since the instructions for establishing a security freeze differ from state to state, please contact the three national credit bureaus to find out more information.
